Procedure of Registration

On June 22nd every person residing in Canada, male or female, British or alien, of sixteen years or over, must attend one of the registration booths located in his or her district, and there observe the procedure explained below.

Where to Register

Every person required to register has the privilege of registering at any of the public places provided for that purpose. The location of all such places will be specified in proclamations posted conspicuously.

The card shown in the illustration is a facsimile of the registration card for males. An advertisement showing the card for females appears in another paper.

Study the questions carefully so that you will be able to answer them promptly when registering. If you have any special qualification, or feel that your services would be more beneficial to the country in some other line of work, say so.

While all are compelled to register on Registration Day, it is not contemplated by the Government to turn the sick, feeble and aged in turn out. If such persons will notify the Registrar prior to June 22nd of their inability to attend at a place of registration, an effort will be made to register them at home, provided the request is reasonable and justified.

Remember the Day—June 22nd—Remember the Hours—7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Register early and get your Certificate for your own protection.

Germans Have Started Another Big Offensive

Saturday and Monday reports contained the news that the Germans had again made another big attempt to break through the Allied lines between Mondidier and the Oise. The Allies were not taken by surprise this time and the French are holding them well in check although the situation is very serious and will be for some days. The reports states that the slaughter of German troops is frightful.

Americans are now taking a bigger part in the fighting and have been engaged in some big battles lately and as was to be expected have given a mighty good account of themselves, punishing the Germans severely in these engagements. Secretary Baker of the U. S. stated this week that the United States has 700,000 men in France now.

The submarines off the Atlantic coast seem to have been very quiet the last few days, only one or two boats having been reported as being sunk for some time.

Fire Destroys Cloverhill Creamery

PROPRIETOR AND FAMILY HAVE VERY CLOSE CALL

Another unfortunate fire occurred on Sunday morning about 4.20 a.m. when the Cloverhill Creamery was discovered to be in flames, and when the fire had burnt itself out there was absolutely nothing left of a flourishing little business that had taken the proprietor, Mr. R. E. LeBlanc, years of hard work to build up.

The living rooms of the family were in the upper storey of the building and Mr. LeBlanc and his two young sons had a very narrow escape from being cremated. Mrs. LeBlanc was visiting in Calgary. The first intimation that the proprietor had of the fire was when his oldest son rushed into his bedroom and roused him when he discovered the place dense with thick smoke; he immediately rushed the two boys down to safety, all of them only having time to get down without a stitch of clothing.

How the fire started in the engine room is not known. The staff had been working till nearly twelve o'clock on Saturday night and everything appeared as usual when they left. A neighbor was the first to see the fire and immediately took steps to send in an alarm, but as usual when a fire takes place at this time of the night and considering the distance of the fire from the fire hall it took some time before the engines arrived. However willing workers did what they could but the fire was so fierce that very little could be saved, and the home and business was completely wiped out in a short time.

The building and contents were valued at $32,000 which is only partly covered by insurance.

Mr. J. V. Berscht took the boys into his car and rushed them down to his store and fitted them out with a complete outfit of new clothing.

Mr. LeBlanc does not know whether he will rebuild or not as yet although his business has been increasing very fast for some time.

A great deal of sympathy will be felt for Mr. LeBlanc who seems to have had more than his share of bad luck for some time and also because of his efforts to build up a business that was a great benefit to the farming community as well as to the town.

BORN

DOUGLAS—On Sunday, June 9th, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Howat Douglas, a daughter.

Has It Come

Wednesday morning's paper contained the news that Gen. Foch had turned on the enemy on a 71-2 mile front between Ribecourt and St. Maur, capturing several lost villages and taking over a thousand prisoners and some guns. Indications are strong that the German fleet are getting ready to challenge the British and American fleets in the North Sea.

1918 Calgary Exhibition

One hundred and ten thousand visitors attended the Calgary Exhibition last year, and most likely this number will be considerably increased at the event this year to be held from June 28th to July 6th. As in former years the exhibition will retain its high standard of all round efficiency in exhibits, live stock shows, various races and entertainments, and you may be certain your anticipation of a good time will be fully realized if you take in the biggest and best industrial exhibition to be seen west of Toronto.

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

In the Spring Most People Need a Tonic Medicine

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimples, unsightly eruptions and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life of winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed there are few people who do not need a tonic at this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia, poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life-giving, nerve-restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired ailing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits, and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood. You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

No Cattle Embargo

No Such Action Contemplated by U. S. Government on Canadian Shipments

Inquiry by the Canadian Press based on rumors from western Canada that the United States contemplates placing restrictions on the shipment of cattle from Canada into the United States, brought the reply from Washington that no such action was contemplated, at least for the present. Washington officials expressed some curiosity as to the origin of the report, and intimated that, so far as they knew, no embargo was in contemplation. The last list of articles placed under restriction, on April 1, made no reference to livestock.

Pencils From Japan

The Creation of a Lead Pencil Industry in Japan

An unthought-of result of the war has been the creation of a lead pencil industry in Japan. In 1911 Japan imported 65,000,000 pencils, most of which came from America and Germany. But with the opening of the European conflict German sources of supply were cut off and native manufacturers, who had been producing only in comparatively small quantities, seized their opportunity and made the most of it. In 1914 Japan exported over 9,000,000 pencils, and in 1916 the number had increased to 168,000,000. There is strong indication that many of the markets won by the Orientals will be held by them after the war, for they have the advantage of very cheap labor. Most of the lead which they use is imported from India and England.

Wise and experienced mothers know when their children are troubled with worms and lose no time in applying Miller's Worm Powders, the most effective vermifuge that can be used. It is absolute in clearing the system of worms and restoring those healthy conditions without which there can be no comfort for the child, or hope of robust growth. It is the most trustworthy of worm exterminators.

Making the Pennies Reach

The little girl put six cents on the counter for a loaf of bread. "Another cent, please," said the baker. "Has it rose, then?" asked the little girl. "Yes, bread went up this morning." "Well, then," she replied, "give me one of yesterday's." — Guelph Mercury.

Don't delay. Get Hamilton's Pills today; they go to work at once and give prompt results. Mild, efficient, safe for men and women or children. Get a 25c box today from any dealer.

Indians Are In Big Food Drive

Fall in With Commissioner Graham's Plans Enthusiastically

Preparations for commencing operations on the home production farm, under the direction of the department of Indian affairs, are progressing rapidly. Six tractors have been shipped from Regina to nearby points where the farms will be maintained. Bank houses and cook houses are now in process of construction at these points.

Indians at the Assiniboia reserve recently sent a delegation to wait upon Commissioner W. M. Graham, and before they left the city arrangements had been made by them for the purchase of three tractors. The Indians are financing the deal themselves and will make all their own arrangements for operating the machines.

Large areas of land are constantly being leased by the department for grazing and agricultural purposes in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Individuals and delegations are steadily coming in to confer with Commissioner Graham in regard to the leasing of these lands.

Gas Blew Back

Prussian Guards Got Dose of Their Own Medicine

Advices received from Germany say four regiments of Prussian Guards suffered severely from their in an attack on Armentieres when the wind shifted suddenly and blew gas back in their faces.

In order that people may not be alarmed at seeing so many men of crack regiments blinded by gas, orders have been given to remove the shoulder straps and other identification marks from the victims before they are sent back to the base hospitals.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

How to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without even irritating the surrounding tissue.

A small bottle of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn of callus from one's feet.

If your druggist hasn't stocked this new drug yet, tell him to get a small bottle of freezone for you from his wholesale drug house.

England

The Strength That Comes in the Fight With Back to the Wall

Trust the battle line of England, the Indomitable! Of all the peoples of history, none more than the English have shown the strength that comes in the fight with back to the wall. The last ditch is where England fights best and there she will fight best today if forced to it by the most tremendous military pressure the world has ever known. Thank God our boys are fighting at her side, even if it be but a few of them. May they carry to her the assurance of our faith and glory in her. May they sweep aside the ancient prejudices that have made us grudge England her fair meed of trust and honor.—Chicago Post.

To drive a tank, handle the guns, and sweep over the enemy trenches, takes strong nerves, good rich blood, a good stomach, liver and kidneys. When the time comes, the man with red blood in his veins "is up and at it." He has iron nerves for hardships—an interest in his work grips him. That's the way you feel when you have taken a blood and nerve tonic, made up of Blood root, Golden Seal root, Stone root, Cherry bark, and rolled into a sugar-coated tablet and sold in fifty-cent vials by almost all druggists for past fifty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic, in liquid or tablet form, is just what you need this spring to give you vim, vigor and vitality. At the far end of a hard winter, no wonder you feel "run-down," blue, out of sorts. Try this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's. Don't wait! To-day is the day to begin! A little "pep," and you laugh and live.

ST. CATHARINES, ONT.—"Several years ago, when convalescing after a serious illness, I took a half dozen bottles each of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription as tonics. I cannot praise these medicines too highly for the benefit I received—my health was completely restored. I always take pleasure in recommending these two of Dr. Pierce's remedies."—MRS. FLORENCE LOGAN, 33 Beach Street.

Machine Gunners Task

A higher degree of physical fitness is required in the machine gunner than in the soldier of any other branch of the army. Size is not so important as good health and muscular strength. The machine gunner must be capable of carrying his gun, crawling on his hands and knees with it, or running with it if need be.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Cure was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Cure is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CLENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. ## A Stern Reminder

More Americans than were killed in action in the whole Spanish-American war have already met their death at the front in France. This single fact is a stern reminder of the nature of the contest we are now engaged in. — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Wretched from Asthma. Strength of body and vigor of mind are inevitably impaired by the visitations of asthma. Who can live under the cloud of recurring attacks and keep body and mind at their full efficiency? Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy dissipates the cloud by removing the cause. It does relieve. It does restore the sufferer to normal bodily trim and mental happiness.

HOW'S THIS FOR CORNS? LIFTS 'EM OUT QUICK

You can peel your corns off, lift them out by the roots, do it without pain and quickly, too, if you first apply a few drops of Putnam's Corn Extractor. Putnam's shrivels up the corn, makes it look like dead skin, uproots it completely. The beauty about Putnam's Extractor is this—it acts without pain—does it's work quickly and costs but a quarter in any drug store in the land. Get it today.

A Voice Wanted

Are Men Who Have no Fixed Point of Truth or Honor

Words still fail to tell the daily tale of woe which those who do things in the name of Germany bring to the world. Devilish as are their physical cruelties even more cruel and terrible seem to be the mental tortures which they inflict upon the world. For they are men who have no fixed point of truth or honor, and their deeds and thoughts are an insult to the world's common good-ness. Strangely enough there seems no voice among the allies able to scorch with prophetic utterance and to shame before the world these representatives of Germany who on the throne and in its parliament and press and pulpit daily kill all that civilization has won. These attacks on truth go by default. They are accepted in silence. And yet as the eternal liveth the men who utter these things and so defy Him shall answer for them at some great tribunal. Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?—Public Opinion.

Crosses on Mount of Olives

In a letter from Jerusalem, telling of a tour of inspection of the Red Cross units with General Allenby's forces, Mrs. Edith H. Phillips says: "They must have made a magnificent fight all up the hillsides, especially Nebi Samwil. There are numerous little crosses on the mountains. Those on the Mount of Olives look sad, but wonderfully impressive."

Nebi Samwil has the traditional tomb of the prophet Samuel and is identified with Mizpah, the city of Benjamin.

The Boy on the Farm

Twenty-five thousand or more older boys, from fifteen to nineteen years, are now enlisted and organized, under the direction of the Canada Food Board, to go out to the farms to do their part in the campaign for greater production.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR CANADA?

It means increased production. If what the 6,000 boys working in Ontario last year were able to produce had been put together in one place, it would have made a handsome showing. When this is carried out by the organized efforts of boys over the whole of Canada, it will help very materially in winning the war.

It means trained workers for the years ahead. However serious the shortage of labor is this year, it will be more acute next year and during the difficult years ahead. It will mean a great deal to Canada if her own native sons are trained for work on the farms.

It means the solution of some difficult economic problems when the rising generation comes into the responsibility of citizenship.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO THE FARMER?

Help for haying and harvest, help for the innumerable duties always waiting to be done about the farm. Boys cannot do everything, but they can do many things, and are usually glad to learn to do more. They can release men for service more necessary than some that they might ordinarily perform.

Larger crops.—With this army of boys ready for service when needed, farmers can with confidence sow more extensively, and when harvest time comes they can get the labor needed.

A better understanding of urban conditions, and the realization of the part he must play in solving community, national and world problems. This movement will broaden the vision of boys and farmers alike.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO THE BOY?

It means the introduction to a new life and to broader experiences. Life in the country will make a strong appeal to many lads. By learning to do things himself-reliance will be increased.

Worth Consideration

Perhaps some of your cows gave twenty-five pounds of milk yesterday, and some gave twenty-two; the difference of three pounds in a day, a pound and a half in the milking might easily be overlooked. In fact the smaller quantity might appear the larger on account of more foam on top, and might easily pass as the larger mess if not weighed.

But a pound and a half at a milking may amount in a lactation period to a thousand pounds and that is worth consideration.

In the plan of cow testing advocated by the Dairy Division, Ottawa, no man could be a thousand pounds astray in his judgment between two cows, for he would have the weight given by each cow jotted down at the time. Some men weigh three days per month, many prefer to weigh daily, it is better: the two different printed forms are available for free distribution, write and get them, stating which you prefer, the daily or three-day form.

A thousand pounds of milk, worth say twenty dollars, may affect your decision in selling or keeping a cow. The good herd that you have in your mind's eye can be built up by giving each producer due credit. Don't sell a good cow not knowing her real value and so sacrifice twenty dollars worth of milk for the sake of a one dollar scale. Ask your local creamery men for information regarding cow testing or write to F. J. Wilkinson, Supervisor, Red Deer, Alta.

The Navy League Subscriptions

The response to the Navy League request for monetary assistance in this district is not receiving the response that such a worthy cause deserves. Perhaps the reason is that the public do not realize the immense importance of this organization which helps the widows and orphans of the gallant men who have lost their lives that we might carry on as usual. Or perhaps it is that a large number feel that the demands for assistance from so many good causes are more than they can help to support. Whatever way you look at it we have got to be thankful that we have a home over our heads, and, while the food restrictions are somewhat stringent, we have plenty to eat, so that we can afford to give our cash to such worthy causes. Money has been proven in these strenuous times to hold a very low place in our moral well being, and the man or woman who neglects to give to the limit is losing the chance of having the consciousness of doing their duty.

We owe a great deal more than we realize to the men of the Navy and Merchant Service, and everyone should be willing to help as much as possible.

THE PARAMOUNT IMPORTANCE OF A SOUND POLICY OF IMMIGRATION

DESIRABLE SETTLERS FOR WESTERN PROVINCES

Indiscriminate Policy in the Past of Encouraging Immigration of an Undesirable Class from Europe Has Resulted in Complicated Social and Economic Problems in the West

Canada's development after the war affords a subject upon which many minds have been engaged, and in regard to which many suggestions have been made. Not all of these suggestions have been well considered. Certainly not all will pass the test of practicability. But all those who have given the question serious thought are, as the Montreal Gazette says, in agreement as to the paramount importance of a sound policy of immigration.

In the past, continues the Montreal paper, the aim has been to bring in new citizens with more regard to numbers than to quality. The settlers brought across the Atlantic have been called the "off-scourings of Europe." That is too harsh a term, because the class of immigration which it has been intended to embrace has included a great number of sober, industrious, thrifty and useful settlers, who have become creditable citizens. The policy followed has been, nevertheless, too indiscriminate, with the result that the newer provinces of the west are today called upon to face social and economic problems from which we ought to have been spared.

When the war began the flow of settlers from the continent of Europe stopped, as did the flow of new citizens from the British Isles. The influx from the United States also was halted, chiefly because of the apprehension that Canada's position as a belligerent might impose upon Canadian citizens, new as well as old, the obligation to serve in the army. The last year has brought a change in this respect. Compulsory military service was instituted in the United States before it was adopted in Canada, and the two countries are now on all fours as to the military obligations of their citizens. The latest information from Ottawa indicates that many farmers from the United States are now moving into these Western Provinces, where they are taking up lands.

There will be general agreement with the view expressed by The Gazette that this is a most satisfactory movement, one which must result in solid benefit to this country. The Gazette adds: "The settlers who enter the Canadian West from the United States, particularly from the western grain states, are from many points of view the best that the Prairie Provinces can secure. They are better equipped for grain growing on the prairie than are the men who go west from the farms of Eastern Canada. They have had experience in farming under conditions of soil and climate closely similar to those which prevail in Western Canada, so that they have fewer new things to learn and fewer old things to unlearn than have the men from the eastern farms who have never ploughed the prairie. Moreover it is generally true that the settler from the western states is a man of some worldly substance, already possessed of machinery and stock or with money to purchase both. The American settler in the Canadian West is infinitely more valuable as a new citizen than is the best of the class which has come in the past from Middle and Eastern Europe, a class composed of men of alien stocks, speaking their own languages, having their own social standards, and assimilating slowly. Whatever may be the extent of European emigration after the war it is probable that Canada will have to look to the middle and western states of America for many if not for the most of her new settlers. That outlook is far from discouraging. From every economic standpoint this immigration must be beneficial to Canada."—Regina Leader.

Urges Increased Acreage

Fifty per cent. more land under cultivation is the objective which Dr. J. W. Robertson, C.M.G., of Ottawa, asks the farmers of New Brunswick to attain this season. This is an average of five acres more per farmer, the amount of land under cultivation in the province being lower than in other parts of Canada, owing to the lack of grain growing, and the large proportion of farming land used for dairying purposes, etc.

Frugality is good, if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last bestowing them to the benefit of others that need. The first without the last begins covetousness; the last without the first begins prodigality; both together make an excellent temper. —William Penn.

Cost of Living

Some Tips Published in Britain Upon War-time Economy

Sufficient food for one person for a day can be bought for a shilling, even at present prices. A shilling a day, once or twice a week, need not involve a Spartan self-denial if the money is spent judiciously. The breakfast menu may be a large soup-plate of oatmeal porridge, two slices of toast with a little margarine, and a cup of cocoa, half milk and half water. For luncheon a pint of packet soup, costing twopenny, a pound of potatoes, and an apple or orange. The last meal may include a pea-soup- pudding, boiled in a cloth, with a lump of margarine added, bread and syrup, and a pint of cocoa with a dash of milk. Such a dietary, on occasional days, costs no more than a shilling, and is sufficient nourishment for all persons engaged in light manual work or sedentary occupation.

A shilling spent on dried peas, beans, rice, or maize provides material for several dishes. If any fatty food can be obtained, such as dripping, oil or suet, a perfectly nourishing meal can be made with one of the pulses as the chief part. It is possible to live healthily for a considerable time upon beans and fat. But a full diet of beans and peas cannot be recommended to persons of weak digestion.

Maize is quite as nourishing as wheat and we are beginning to recognize its high food value. The belief that maize is indigestible is quite erroneous. It is more digestible than white wheat flour. Cornflour, often given invalids, is simply a preparation of maize. All kinds of dishes, from porridge to rissoles and fritters, can be prepared from maize-meal or flaked maize. This is probably the most economical food that can be obtained at present. Maize is cheap, extremely nourishing, and easily absorbed by the body. It is a far more valuable food than rice. Maize builds up body tissue and provides warmth. Its excellence as a food should be known to every housewife who has to study rigid economy and wishes to obtain the best value in food for the cost of a shilling.

General Currie's Thanks

Letter of Appreciation for War Comforts Sent

Those ladies and gentlemen who devote their spare time enthusiastically to the provision for comforts for the Canadian troops at the front will be gratified by the following letter from Gen. Sir Arthur Currie to Mr. Colmer:

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to have this opportunity of expressing to you my own deep sense of gratitude, and that of all ranks of the Canadian corps, for the untiring efforts of the Canadian War Contingent association on our behalf.

"In the wonderful work you are doing you touch the daily lives of the men in the trenches in the closest possible way, and your abundant supply of practical gifts has contributed in very large measure to their comfort, happiness and health.

"Please accept my very best wishes for the continued and increasing success of your splendid association, and my assurance that your labors on behalf of the Canadian soldiers are deeply appreciated by us all."

Drain on German Nobility

The heavy drain of the war on German nobility is shown by the latest issues of Gotha's Genealogical Manuals. Summarized by the Kolnische Volkszeitung, the manuals show these losses: 270 members of families of counts; 633 members of baronial families; 843 members of the old nobility, and 836 of the patent nobility.

Kitchener's Comment

What Kitchener said to the English landowner who questioned him is worth remembering. "If the Germans should invade England, what uniform should I wear as a member of the Home League to repel them?" asked the landowner.

"That suit you wish to be buried in," answered K. of K.—Outlook.

The Luxuries of War

The War Is Bringing About Strange Domestic Changes

The war is bringing about strange domestic changes. The other day a woman with a shawl over her head entered a piano dealer's shop in Yorkshire, saying she wanted a piano. The salesman hesitatingly suggested a sound instrument at £25, expecting thus to end the inquiry. "Not that," said the woman shortly, "a real one." Taken aback, the man more boldly indicated one at £60. This was thought better, but not "up to the mark," and another at £80 or £90 was also dismissed as inadequate. "I want one of them with a big, broad top." A grand! Now beyond surprise, the salesman pointed out the cheapest of that order at £130. "That's more like it," said the customer; and then, reassuringly, "Aw've got t' brass," produced at the same time a sufficient roll of notes from the recesses of her clothing.

A lady district visitor to whom the story was told followed the grand shortly after to its cramped, new quarters, where such splendor had never been seen before. It was safely installed, filling the humble room with its bulk and the family with pride. "But they can't make any use of such a thing," declared the perplexed salesman, when the visitor reported to him. "Yes, they can," insisted the lady. "They were having their dinner on it."—From the Manchester Guardian.

Not in Vain

Deed Has Put New Fighting Spirit Into Germany's Foes

Whatever military success Germany may have gained by the sinking of the Lusitania will cost her dear.

Unlike the sinking of the Lusitania and the air raids over London, this latest great exploit of German war by stealth can be defended under the laws of warfare; for a transport conveying combatant troops is not a peaceful merchantman nor is it a community of civilians, but is legitimate prey. But, like the air raids and the sinking of merchantmen, this deed has put new fighting spirit into Germany's foes. It has proved again how far ast. Ger many goes in her calculations. It has revealed anew the self-control of the American fighting man, his readiness for emergency, and his inflexible determination for victory. And it has stimulated recruiting in this country. For every man that lost his life in that disaster more than one man has offered himself for service against Germany.

Those who sorrow for the loss of their men who went down with the Lusitania have no cause to feel that their loved ones died in vain. They gave their lives heroically and to a great end. They have been the means of gaining new strength for the arms of their country. They have made all Americans their debtors. To them, as well as to those who die at the front, will belong the victory which they have helped to purchase with their lives.—From the New York Outlook.

The Bishop's Parable

Bishop Paul Jones of Utah was asked by a committee the other day to support a rather extreme Sunday ordinance.

"Gentlemen," the Bishop said, "the wife of one of my ministers saw her little boy last Sunday morning chasing the hens all over the farmyard with a club.

"I'll learn you," he was shouting. "I'll learn you to lay eggs on the Sabbath!"—Florida Times-Union.

The official curtain which shrouds the persistent work of the British admiralty in ridding the seas of the lurking submarine menace has been momentarily drawn aside. Ten recent instances have been given publicly in which the undersea emissaries of Teuton barbarism have been discovered and destroyed by alert naval aircraft. The cases are recorded in the official language of the admiralty reports.

The world "do move." It is significant that the modern menace of U-boat frightfulness should find its sharpest checkmate in the modern achievement of the flying machine. The seaplanes patrolling the narrow waters around the coasts of Britain and France are the "eyes" which keep the undersea marauder under surveillance and are its constant terror. The speed at which the "birds" travel and their ability to dip at will to the water's edge and cast forth their deadly bombs enable them to do splendid service in exterminating the Hun submarine. Even in the moment of his seeming triumph the barbarian is liable to destruction from the air. One of the ten cases enumerated by the admiralty in its matter-of-fact and unembellished record reads as follows:

"A seaplane saw the track of a torpedo which had been fired at a merchantman. It dived toward the surface and sighted the black shadow of the submarine well below the surface. It dropped two bombs, which both exploded close to the submarine, resulting in a large quantity of oil, bubbles and wreckage."

The glimpse that the admiralty has given the public of the efficient service being rendered by aircraft in the steady destruction of German submarines is most encouraging. It illustrates how the allies are persistently overtaking and removing the U-boat menace, and it emphasizes the tremendous value of the air service which is not only indispensable to the army in land operations, but has become, in a very real and effective sense, the "eyes" of the British navy.—Toronto Globe.

The Future of Russia

Perpetual Struggle to Free Herself From the Exploitation of Germany

It is obviously German policy to keep Russia poor, helpless and ignorant, so that she may never again use her giant power against the Teuton. The blinded Samson is doomed to grind the corn of the Philistines, chained to the wheel. We see the future of Russia unfolding itself before our mental vision, a perpetual struggle to free herself from the organized exploitation of Germany. Patriots will arise; they will die as martyrs in the cause. Parties will be organized; but their leaders will be betrayed. For there will always be a party of betrayal in Russia—Germany will see to that. Risings and vain struggles to be free will only bring a heavier punishment upon the head of the Russian people. It is a terrible and tragic fate for a great and proud nation.—London Morning Post.

Fighting Tuberculosis

As tuberculosis is prevalent in European countries, where food is scarce and malnutrition prevalent, the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is urging the need of greater food production as one method of assisting towards the prevention of tuberculosis.

The association purposes to obtain from the army, if possible, records of those rejected on account of tuberculosis, and an educational campaign will be carried on amongst these.

"Well," he said by and by, "my opinion is that Daly thinks Lawrence is here, so to speak, within his reach, which must be a strong encouragement. If he learns the truth, he'll no doubt, go back to Canada and get on his track. I'd like to set him searching for Lawrence up and down Great Britain. There would be something amusing in his wasting his time and money, but at present I don't see how it could be done. However, we have until tomorrow to think of a plan."

Featherstone left him soon afterwards and he stayed in the library until dinner, which he found a melancholy function. It was necessary to appear undisturbed while the servants were about, and he envied his friend's fine control. These people had courage and when they talked carelessly about things of no importance he did his best to play up. Still, although they sometimes laughed their amusement sounded forced, there was a curious feeling of tension, and he thought Mrs. Featherstone once or twice showed signs of strain.

When the meal was over he made an excuse for leaving them alone, but some time afterwards Alice came into the hall, where he sat quietly thinking. She was calm, but he saw she had heard about the threatened danger. He got up as she advanced, but she beckoned him to sit down.

"My father has told me about the letter, and I understand you know," she said.

"I wish I knew what ought to be done! It's an awkward matter. To tell the truth, it bothers me."

Alice sat down, shielding her face from the fire with her hand.

"You mean you feel you ought to put it right?"

"Something of the kind," said Foster, forcing a smile. "In a sense, of course, that's presumptuous; but then, you see, in many ways, I'm in your brother's debt."

"You like to pay your debts," Alice remarked, fixing a level glance on him.

"When I can; but that's not all. I'm not in Lawrence's debt alone," Foster answered with some diffidence. "I came over here, a stranger, ignorant of your ideas and customs, and you made me welcome. Of course, if I had jarred you, you wouldn't have let me know; but there are different degrees of hospitality."

Alice smiled. "You needn't labor your excuses for wanting to help us, and you are not a stranger now. You must have understood this when my father showed you the letter."

"Thank you," Foster replied with feeling, and was silent for the next few moments. Alice, who was proud and reserved, trusted him, and he

CANADA'S PRIDE

CANADIANS have good reason to be proud of the position Canada holds in the world today. This pride is justified by the activities of her people, by her unlimited natural resources, by her splendid institutions, and particularly by her Industries.

Facts about the immensity of some Canadian industries would astonish most people.

These industries, when viewed in the light of comparison with other countries, are simply tremendous.

The growth of any industry is limited to the number of people it can serve, and that is a fact not often properly appreciated when Canadian industries are compared to similar enterprises in, say, the United States.

For example: the population of the United States exceeds 100,000,000. Opportunity for industries there is almost unlimited. In comparison, Canada with its seven million population is a small country—yet in spite of this comparatively small population, Canada possesses several industries which in actual size rank among the biggest in the world.

In shoemaking, one Canadian concern has developed a volume of business and a service to the Canadian people which is not equalled by another shoe manufacturer anywhere in the world. This concern, if located in the United States, would rank as one of the twelve largest out of some two thousand shoe manufacturers there.

While the sales of the largest shoe manufacturer in the United States—selling to the American people—do not exceed twenty-five cents per capita per year, the sales of Ames Holden McCready to the Canadian people last year were approximately eighty cents per capita.

In a comparative sense, therefore, this Canadian concern is greater than the foremost American shoe manufacturer in the United States.

Thus Ames Holden McCready truly merit the distinction of their title "Shoemakers to the Canadian Nation."

Just imagine for a moment the enormous work of supplying a large portion of Canada's 7,000,000 people with its boots and shoes:

—it requires—huge up-to-date factories equipped with the most modern machinery able to turn out 8,000 pairs of shoes a day.

—it requires—a variety of nearly 800 different styles to meet the requirements of all classes of people, for different grades, shapes and kinds of shoes.

—it requires—the maintenance of six large distributing branches in principal cities from coast to coast, and in these are carried over a million dollars worth of stock, ready for quick delivery to retailers.

—it requires—sixty travelling salesmen to call on the retail trade, because out of approximately 10,000 retail dealers who sell shoes in Canada, more than 5,000 handle A.H.M. Shoes.

—it requires—many other details of organization and equipment, but this brief outline will give you some slight idea of the part that this great shoe concern is playing in the business of supplying footwear to the Canadian people.

You will be interested in these facts, because the next time you buy footwear bearing the A.H.M. Brand, you will know that they are the product of a large and efficient organization making shoes which will in every case give you the greatest value for your money.

must somehow justify her confidence. He had a vague plan in his mind, but it needed working out.

"But we must be practical," she resumed. "Can you help? You must see that there is nobody else who can."

Foster made a sign of agreement, for it was plain that Featherstone could not tell his friends about his trouble.

"I begin to think I might; but although I haven't quite made my plans yet, I see some danger. Would you take a risk for your brother's sake?"

The girl's eyes sparkled, and he saw that she had Lawrence's reckless courage. He had heard his partner laugh when they faced starvation on the frozen trail.

"I would take any risk to save him or punish the blackmailer."

"Very well. I rather think your father will leave things to me, and I have a half-formed plan. There ought to be some humor in the plot, if I can work it out. Daly's plainly convinced that your brother's here, and I don't see why he shouldn't be encouraged to stick to his opinion. In fact, the longer he looks for Lawrence, the more amusing the thing will get. Of course, he may turn spiteful when he finds he has been tricked, but he, no doubt, means to all the harm he can already. However, you must give me until tomorrow."

Alice got up and when he rose said quietly, but with something in her voice that thrilled him: "I think you like my mother and she knows I meant to talk to you. Lawrence is very dear to her and if he were dragged back into disgrace, now when we thought it was all forgotten and he has made a new start in Canada, I am not sure she could bear the shock. There is nobody else who could help us and we trust to you."

"Then I must try to deserve it," Foster answered with a bow. "But what about your old servant, John? Have you much confidence in him?"

The girl's tense face relaxed. "In a sense, John is one of the family, but if you want his help, you must use some tact and not expect western frankness. He is remarkably discreet."

Foster opened the door for her, and then went to the gun room, where he found John, who had driven him from the station when he arrived, pouring out some Rangoon oil. Sitting down carelessly, he lighted a cigarette.

"I understand you were rather fond of my partner, Lawrence Featherstone," he remarked.

"If I may say so, sir, I was. A very likeable young gentleman."

"I expect you know he got into trouble."

John looked pained at his bluntness. "I heard something about it, sir. Perhaps Mr. Lawrence was a little wild. It sometimes happens in very good families."

"Just so," said Foster. "Would you be surprised to hear he hadn't got out of that trouble yet?"

"Not surprised exactly; I was afraid of something like it, sir."

Foster knew this was as much as he would admit, but felt that he could trust the man.

"Very well. My partner's in some danger, and with Mr. Featherstone's permission I must try to see him through, but may want your help. I suppose you're willing?"

"Yes, sir. If it's for Mr. Lawrence, you can take it that I am."

"You can drive an automobile pretty well?"

"Not like a professional, sir, but now we don't keep a chauffeur I often drive to the station."

"That's satisfactory. I may want the car tomorrow evening, but nobody else must know about this."

"Very good, sir," said John. "When you're ready you can give me your instructions; they'll go no further."

Then he dipped a rag in the oil and began to rub a gun, and Foster went out, feeling satisfied. It was plain that he could rely upon the old fellow, who he thought was unflinchingly loyal to the Featherstones. After all, it was something to have the respect and affection of one's servant.

The Misses Nora and Ada Shantz and Lottie Ault had a pleasant trip to Calgary recently visiting friends.

Mr. John Luft has treated his family to a new spring wagon.

Our advice to Bergen-Nitche is to stay away from Arkansaw—he might miss the "hill billies" but the "hill jannies" might catch him and he would be there his natural life living on corn pone, sow belly and sorghum, and it would be razor back hog to boot.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Loveland's daughter Josephine, who was married a year ago, presented them with a grand-daughter last Sunday.

Mrs. Ault and daughter Lottie spent a pleasant afternoon last Tuesday with Mrs. C. S. Chapin.

Mr. Geo. Reel has his place up for sale as the altitude is too high for both him and Mrs. Reel. They came here from Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burgess were welcome visitors at the Chapin home last Sunday evening.

Registration Regulations

The regulations and instructions for the registration of all persons over the age of 16 years which is to take place on the 22nd of this month have been received by this office and for the information of our readers we quote the following:

Every person who resides in Canada, male or female, British subject or alien, who has attained his or her sixteenth birthday must register at the time and place appointed, and every person who shall attain such age after the day of registration, within thirty days of their birthday, must also register. Persons upon active service in any of his Majesty's military or naval forces so long as they remain upon active service are not required to register.

The registration offices in each district will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and remain open till 10 o'clock at night, and every person must register at the places appointed during these hours.

The penalties for not observing the registration act are a penalty of $100 and imprisonment up to one month, and a further penalty of $10 per day for each day after the day when such persons should have registered.

Every person who fails to register will be disentitled to vote at any Dominion election; will forfeit their right and disentitled to obtain or continue in any employment or to receive any salary or wages; they will be disentitled to purchase, receive or have in their possession any railway, steamboat, or other public conveyance ticket; they will be disentitled to board or lodging at any hotel, public house, inn, tavern, club, restaurant or boarding house.

Any person who sells tickets, or harbors any unregistered persons upon his premises after the registration date is liable to a fine not exceeding $100.

After the registration every person shall carry their registration certificates upon their person and must produce it upon demand of any peace officer, police officer or constable; and if any person shall, without reasonable excuse, refuse or neglect to produce such certificate he will incur a penalty of $20, and if a male person be taken immediately before a justice of the peace.

If any person refuses to answer any question on the registration card he is guilty of an offense and liable to a fine of $100.

A wilfully false or misleading answer to any question is liable to bring a $500 fine and imprisonment for six months.

The registrars are all enjoined to assist the public in every way possible and to treat them with courtesy and patience.

A Good View of the Eclipse

Every person who was watching the eclipse of the sun on Saturday afternoon in this district was rewarded with a good view shortly after four o'clock. It was cloudy but at times a lighter cloud film would pass over the sun and the eclipse could be plainly seen, although a great many people had supplied themselves with smoked glasses.

While it was very cloudy while the eclipse was on shortly after it was over the clouds all passed away and the day ended with a beautiful sunset.

In the Southern States where the eclipse was total they had to use electric lights and also the lights on the autos, a state of twilight existing.

The eclipse came to the second as foretold by the astronomers and scientists.

Every Farmer Needs a Ford

THE Motor Car is a greater convenience to the average farmer than the telephone, the rural mail or even the grain binder.

The binder which is considered as a very useful implement is rarely used more than a few days during the entire year. The rest of the time it stands idle, taking up space, while the automobile is available for use throughout all seasons, and both day and night.

It is ever ready to run down the lane to the back field or the pasture with a parcel or a message, or take you and your family to town for shopping purposes—or on an errand to the neighbors.

The motor car is called upon whenever anything is wanted in a hurry. It is the most useful implement or convenience for the farm. It helps you conserve your energies and time for productive work and enables you and your family to accomplish more with less energy. You surely feel the need of a Ford. Why not order one today?

Boys on the Farm

What the Boys Have Done and Can Do

Previous experience has shown that there are few of the phases of farm work the older boys cannot accomplish. Their main worth, perhaps, lies in the fact that by attending to the chores, looking after feeding and milking of cows, weeding and such other lighter but necessary farm work, they release the regular farm labor for the more strenuous farm tasks. Reports of work done last year show that the Soldiers of the Soil looked after the hoeing, harrowing, lighter seeding, weeding, raking, mowing, planting, churning, and delivery of cream and milk, general farm chores, feeding of all live stock, and the letters received from farmers who had these older boys assisting them told not only of the good work done but also of the desire of these same farmers to have the boys help another year.

The productive capacity of 25,000 boys on the farm, according to authority, should be equal to at least five million bushels of wheat, if we take the labor of one boy as equal to the cultivation of ten acres of wheat at twenty bushels to the acre; which calculation it would appear is conservative.

Two Years' Illness Cured by Two Boxes

JOSEPH LAROCHE TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

He Suffered From Cramps in the Muscles and Headaches, But Now He Is Well Again.

Lac Bouchette, Lac St. Jean Co., Que. (Special).—"I can assure you Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well." So says M. Joseph Larouche, well known and highly respected here. For two years he was a sufferer from cramps in the muscles and headaches. He was treated by a doctor, but got no permanent relief till he used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"You may publish my statement that Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well," says Mr. Larouche in an interview. "I was ill two years. I had cramps in my muscles, and suffered from terrible headaches. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

That Mr. Larouche's troubles came from his kidneys is evidenced by the fact that he found a cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are simply and purely a kidney remedy. The reason they are credited with cures of rheumatism, lumbago, dropsy, backache, diabetes and heart disease is that all of these were either kidney diseases or diseases caused by sick kidneys.

French Testaments

To assist the United States soldiers to learn French, and at the same time make reading the Bible more interesting, the Bible Society has issued a special pocket edition of the Gospel of St. Mark, containing the Gospel in French on one page and its counterpart in English on the opposite page.

It Is a Liver Pill.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmedee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

Militarism and Heredity

U. S. Grant called upon Robert E. Lee, in camp the other day. It is characteristic of a peaceful country that the grandson and grandnephew of two world-famous generals both entered the new army from civil life. Neither is a professional soldier—another thing that a Prussian Junker might find it hard to understand.—New York World.

Londoner's Sunday Work

Allotment holders go out in battalions on Sundays in London, Eng. In every suburb land given over to the people's vegetable push team with workers as on no previous day—women in business-like blouses men in their shirt sleeves.

Sunday is mainly a day of digging, carried on diligently from morning till evening in preparation for the all-important seed-sowing. Nearly everywhere, allotments have increased in number, as, for instance, at Richmond, where 80 new plots have been taken up on the athletic ground alone. Women recruits are particularly numerous. In many cases husband and wife have an allotment each.

Kaiser Wanted Morocco

German Plot to Murder French Revealed

The Tangier correspondent of the London Times lays bare a German plot for ousting French and Spaniards from Morocco. It was proposed to Raisuli and other Moorish chieftains that on the declaration of a German victory in France a revolution of tribes should break out in Morocco. This revolution was to include the massacre and extermination of subjects of all allied powers and be followed by a declaration of the independence of Morocco and nomination of a pro-German sultan.

Spies by Submarine

Like Sir Roger Casement, the two German agents who were landed by submarine on the coast of Greece have been caught and executed. ### A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

Nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets as a medicine for little ones. They are a laxative, mild but thorough in action, and never fail to relieve constipation, colic, colds and simple fevers. Once a mother has used them she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Damas des Aulnaies, Que., writes:—"I always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They are the best medicine I know of for little ones and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Burden of Anxiety falls on the Women

ALMOST everybody is living under a tense nervous strain during these trying times, but the burden rests particularly heavy on the women in the home. Whatever their employment about the house, the mind has much time to dwell on the dreadful things that might happen.

There is nothing so wearing on the nerves as worry and anxiety. Nerve force is consumed at an enormous rate, and as the nerve cells become starved and depleted you find yourself unable to rest or sleep. You soon get so you can only see the dark side, and become down-hearted and discouraged.

Headaches, neuralgic pains, indigestion and failure of the vital organs to properly perform their functions are among the symptoms which tell of exhausted nerves and low vitality.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will help you if you will only give it a chance. We know this from long experience with this great food cure. We have proven it by evidence published in this paper from time to time. It only remains for you to put it to the test.

You may wonder why people are so enthusiastic in recommending this treatment for the nerves. But you will understand after you have experienced the benefits that are to be obtained by its use.

You will find yourself resting and sleeping better, appetite and digestion will improve and you will know again the joy of good health.

A Quick Relief for Headache

A headache is frequently caused by badly digested food; the gases and acids resulting therefrom are absorbed by the blood which in turn irritates the nerves and causes painful symptoms called headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. 15 to 30 drops of Mother Seigel's Syrup will correct faulty digestion and afford relief.

Change in Representatives

The Department of Agriculture in their Greater Production Campaign have found it necessary to move Mr. Taggart, the former representative, to the Calgary district to carry on the greater production work in Mr. Brown's place, he having been called to the Army. N. S. Smith, Agronomist from the Olds School of Agriculture, has taken up this work, so persons interested are requested to communicate with the above named person.

The co-operation of the Reeves and Councillors, Officers of the U. F. A. and Bankers is requested. Some of the duties are:

1. Securing labor for farmers.
2. Locating suitable land for those who wish to rent.
3. Identifying weeds, injurious insects and plant diseases and giving information regarding methods of control.
4. Aiding farmers in the solution of other problems which they meet in their efforts to produce more food.

Those requiring extra help for haying and harvesting are asked to send in a statement as to the number as soon as possible so that the situation may be met in the best possible manner.

The able-bodied young men in Canada are at the front or in training. The farmers have done their best and the crop is in the ground. The harvest is up to the townspeople. Unless they organize to help, the people of this country will have to tighten their belts next winter. There is no doubt about it.

The anniversary services of the Westerdale Methodist church to be held on Sunday, June 16th, to be conducted by Rev. C. E. Bland, D. D., of Wesley church, Calgary, will be held at 11 o'clock in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon instead of at 8 p.m. in the evening. Everybody is invited to these services.

U. F. A. Picnic Postponed

The big picnic of the U. F. A. scheduled for last Wednesday had to be postponed on account of bad weather, and as the speakers who were to have been present are now unable to come owing to their being scheduled to speak at other places for some time to come it is not known when the picnic will be held.

The big U. F. A. drive commences North on June 17th to 22nd, and in the South on June 24th to 29th. Over 80 meetings have been arranged which have been spread over as wide an area as possible.

The meetings to be held close to Didsbury are Innisfail, Bowden, Carstairs, Crossfield and will commence at Innisfail on Monday, June 24th and the other towns the days following in order.
